It was my first time dining at this restaurant and I tried the Aglio Olio Spaghetti. The seasoning was quite average but the texture of the spaghetti was just right. Overall this dish is good especially and light so I will recommend eating this when you are not very hungry.

Ordered something else apart from my usual order and I would say that this taste quite average but overall, it is still good because it's a light dish. I added on some squid to enhance the texture and it tastes good, I would eat this again!
